VRS in Partnership with the Athens University of Economics and Business (AUEB) Students' Investment & Finance Club

VRS (Valuation & Research Specialists) announce their partnership with the Athens University of Economics and Business (AUEB) Students' Investment & Finance Club in a mission to conduct as well as promote research initiatives in the field of Finance and Investment. The agreement calls for mutual actions in the areas academic research, investment research, financial data collection and analysis, financial modeling, joint publications and lecturing events.

Over the past 12 months VRS and AUEBS' IFC took initial steps towards the above framework, conducting investment and corporate analysis which ultimately reached the audience of institutional investors internationally.

The Athens University of Economics and Business (AUEB) Students' Investment & Finance Club - www.auebsifc.gr , the first of its kind amongst Greek Universities, is a non-political and non-profit student initiative. Its aim is to train its members as well as educate and inform the academic community of AUEB on different functions of Finance.

Founded in 2002, VRS (Valuation & Research Specialists) - www.vrs.gr is an independent Financial Research & Consulting Firm based in Athens, Greece, providing advanced equity research, quality valuations, reports and value-related advisory services to local and international institutions, business entities and individual clients. VRS services include valuations of intangible assets, business enterprises, and fixed assets.
